Encouraging the Next Generation of Believers

We will tell the next generation the praiseworthy deeds of the Lord, his power, and the wonders he has done... that they would put their trust in God and would not forget his deeds but would keep his commands.

Psalm 78:4b & 7

The psalmist is passionate to see the next generations trust God with their lives. They have experienced the powerful and wonderful ways God has been at work and are eager for others to also know and follow God. What are the praiseworthy deeds that God has done in and through the lives of people here at FPCS? How might we increasingly encourage the next generations of believers?

These are the questions we will be discussing in the History and Hopes Gatherings this summer. On July 16 from 5-7pm and August 10 from 12-2pm, FPCS leadership is hosting times for us to gather together to look back on what we have learned about God, and look forward in faith to how we might encourage the next generation of believers. These will be important times in the transition process for us to consider what God has done and how we will respond to the opportunities that God has placed before us. Please mark your calendars and join us for one (or both) of these gatherings. For an explanation of the Transition Process and to see a timeline of all of the activities, please visit the page on our website about this: www.snopres.org/transition

Former FPCS pastor Ken Robinson wrote insightful articles about the ways God reveals himself to us in everyday life. In one he said, "Perhaps we need to see the church as being the doors and windows of God through which people come to sense God and experience the blessing of God's love. We are not a closed institution, but channels through which God moves. May we be an open window allowing the fresh breeze of God's Spirit to blow through us into the world, touching others in love." Being Fully Conscious, July 21, 1987.

Let's be open windows to God's fresh breeze,

The Spiritual Formation Ministry Team invites you to join the SnoPres Fall Retreat October 10-12 at the Dumas Bay Centre on the Puget Sound in Federal Way. Gather with others for a refreshing weekend of rest, reflection, and feeding from God's word.

The guest rooms are thoughtfully designed for comfort and relaxation. The cost includes 2 nights, 4 meals. Most rooms are single occupancy with a private half-bath (not surprising for a former convent). There are a few rooms with double beds if you prefer but some such rooms may only have a sink, using a shared bathroom. Price includes Lodging and Meals - Saturday breakfast, lunch and dinner; Sunday breakfast. You can click here to register: **REGISTER**

On that registration page, you will see three payment options. 1) $330 covers the cost of the retreat, 2) If that amount is too steep, there is an option to 'Pay What You Can' and then 3) A way to make an additional contribution that will help cover the cost for others.

If you have questions, contact Jon Bishop, Paula Erickson, or a member of the Spiritual Formation Team.

Join us on Sunday, June 15th as we recognize and honor our volunteers. It takes a village to do all of the things that the church does - not only internally, but in the community as well. We will recognize our volunteers during the service and then celebrate afterwards with chocolate cake and cookies! Come join us!

THANK YOU for your ongoing support of the Tent of Nations farm & peacemaking center, located a few miles from Bethlehem in the West Bank. Palestinian Christian Daoud Nassar and his family want you to know that your prayerful support provides encouragement for their ongoing road toward justice. Charlie Lewis, Judy & Dana Wright, and others recently returned from volunteering on the farm.

Here is a message for you from the April issue of the Friends of Tent of Nations North America (FOTONNA) newsletter.

Dear Friends:

As we celebrate Easter this year with heavy hearts, we are reminded that light breaks through the darkness, that pain, injustice, and even death do not have the final word, and that the empty tomb is not just a symbol of victory over death, but a promise that love is stronger than hate, that justice will rise, and that peace will prevail.

Jesus rose, not only to comfort the brokenhearted, but to challenge systems of oppression, and to call for a new way of living. HE challenged both the religious and political powers of HIS day, and HIS resurrection was—and still is—a revolution of love.

At the Tent of Nations, we continue to embody this resurrection hope. Despite years of legal struggle, and daily challenges, we still stand on the sacred soil of our ancestors—rooted in faith, nonviolence, and refuse to give in to despair. We continue to plant seeds of hope even in rocky soil, and to resist injustice with the same spirit that turned over tables and rolled away the stone.

May we become gardeners of justice, may we walk in solidarity, not just in thought, but in action as peacemakers and bridge-builders. Let us make Easter not just a moment, but a movement, that continues through us.

Wishing you a blessed and powerful Easter, full of light, love, courage, and renewed commitment to justice.

With Faith, Love, and Hope,
